

NYLINE

New York's Libraries Information Network

For up-to-the-minute information about library legislation and other developments in New York State, and news from the New York State Library, the New York Library Association and colleagues with ideas.

Subject: [NYLINE] Information

Sender: New York's Libraries Information Network
<NYLINE@listserv.nysed.gov>

Date: Wed 2 NOV 2016 10:05:11 EDT

NYLINE is an e-mail list open to any library or interested individual. NYLINE is a forum for sharing information with any interested library or Internet user in New York State or elsewhere. The New York State Library uses it for official announcements to all subscribers. Many also use NYLINE to post library-related job announcements.

NYLINE alerts subscribers to messages and policy documents or reports available through the New York State Library's web site.

NYLINE is an "unmoderated" list. Once subscribed, your messages are received by nearly 3,000 readers — leaders in libraries and library systems and others interested in New York's libraries.

It's easy to subscribe: simply point your browser to <<http://listserv.nysed.gov/archives/nyline.html>> and click on "Join or leave the list (or change settings)." Or send the following message via e-mail to <listserv@listserv.nysed.gov>:

subscribe NYLINE YourFirstname YourLastname

For more information, contact Andrew Mace, Listowner: nyline-request@listserv.nysed.gov | (518) 486-5254 (fax) | (518) 474-8541 (voice)

NYLINE: since 1985!

Keep informed — share information — on NYLINE!

<http://www.nysl.nysed.gov/libdev/nyline.htm>