

NATIVE AMERICAN LANGUAGE AND CULTURE PRESERVATION PROJECT

REEL CONTENTS GUIDE

MB/FM 970.1,N532,93-36144

The Native American Language and Culture Preservation Project microfilmed selected monograph and serial items in the holdings of the New York State Library pertaining primarily to the Iroquois. The 66 reels of microfilm include books concerning Native American education, especially missionary and Indian schools; Jesuit relations dating from the 17th century; religious works published in Iroquoian and Algonquin languages; captivity accounts by European-American settlers who were captured and later were released or escaped, and publications by the Society of Friends and other organizations concerned with Native American issues.

The materials were microfilmed in 1993-1994 thanks to a grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities. The microfilm may be borrowed for use at your local library through interlibrary loan.

The majority of titles are in English with some texts, grammars and glossaries, in whole or in part, in indigenous languages, including Seneca, Mohawk and Onondaga. A few titles are in French, Spanish, German, Italian, Latin or Dutch.
