

Interested in educational performers and program presenters for your library or school setting?
Check out the statewide New York State Performers & Programs Database at <https://performersandprograms.com/>

The New York State Performers & Programs Database brings together performer and program information in a searchable statewide database. This statewide resource features educational and entertaining programs suitable for libraries, schools and other venues, and features programs aimed at students and youth. Program presenters can create a free account to list their program offerings and descriptions, fees, and other relevant information to be included in the statewide database.

The website offers many filters to locate programs:

- Search by category. The database has performers from ALL different fields. Searching by category allows you to search for performers or programs in a specific area of interest.
- Search by keyword. Many performers add labels to help refine searches. By searching a specific keyword, such as “American Revolution,” you will only get performers that relate to the American Revolution.
- Search by audience level. The performers listed all cater to different age groups, so searching by audience level will make sure you are getting a performer who is appropriate for a particular age group or range.
- Narrow your search by price range. Using this method will allow you and your library or organization to stay within budget.
- Search by date added or updated. This will allow you to only get the most current and active performer listed in the database.
- Search performers from a specific region of the state. This will allow you to narrow your search based on your location. Or do a statewide search and get results from all regions. Many performers are now offering virtual programs in addition to in-person events.

Interested in being listed in the Performers database? Check out this section of the website at
