GENERAL PAS- SAGE OFFICE AT AL- BANY—1835—For the benefit of Eastern travellers, and the public generally, we would inform them that a general passage office has been opened on the corner of State and Quay streets, near the bridge, where emigrants, both foreign and domestic, as well as all classes of the travelling community, can be accommodated with comfortable and expeditious conveyances through the Canal, to any part of the western country, and even to the far West. Boats of the first class will depart from Albany every hour in the day during the navigable season. And they are so connected with steam-boats and vessels on the western waters, that no delay will be experienced at Buffalo. Freight, as well as passengers, will at all times be taken at the lowest rates, and be delivered as directed, with care and despatch. Agents from this office will be in attendance at the landing of steam boats and vessels on their arrival from New York or other ports, to conduct passengers to the canal boats, which will be found fitted and furnished in the most elegant manner, and no pains shall be spared to give general satisfaction to all who favor us with their patronage.
